GREEN HOUSE HOMES at

Willow Ridge are designed to look and feel like a real home, making it a place you and your elders want to be. They are kept small, so that they remain flexible and have a warm feel. Elders have the comfort of private rooms and a place for their personal items, and they decide their own meal times. The family-like atmosphere of the common areas are a space to socialize and eat a home-cooked meal. At Green House homes, elders are the stars of the show. The resident-to-staff ratio is low. That makes the difference between just having health care and having a real "caregiver."

We want the people we love to live in their own homes for as long as they can. When that is no longer an option, we want them to get the best care in a setting that is as close as possible to a real home.
